The 3 Moves That Lose Deals

Specific to Japan · Sales negotiation

× Mistake 1: Pushing for a same-day "yes" with direct close language.

Why it fails: Japan uses indirect, formal, respectful of hierarchy. A blunt close reads as desperate or disrespectful.

✓ Do this instead: Frame the ask as a draft for review. Let the counterpart raise the next step.

× Mistake 2: Talking past the senior person to the subject-matter expert.

Why it fails: Strong seniority-based hierarchy; nemawashi (consensus-building). Skipping rank breaks the room.

✓ Do this instead: Open and close with the most senior person. Ask experts to brief them, not you.

× Mistake 3: Opening with discount math before the room agrees on the problem.

Why it fails: Patient, relationship-focused, group consensus required. Leading with price erases your premium.

✓ Do this instead: Anchor on the cost of the status quo. Bring price up only after they describe the gap in their own words.

Communication Style

How they speak

Indirect, formal, respectful of hierarchy

Hierarchy and titles

Strong seniority-based hierarchy; nemawashi (consensus-building)

Meeting norms

Punctual; senior members speak first; decisions made offline

Email tone — get it right

× Wrong tone

Hi — circling back. Need an answer by Friday. Are we good to go?

✓ Right tone

Dear [Name], thank you for the time you have already invested in this discussion. I wanted to share where we are and ask whether end of next week would work to align on next steps. I appreciate your guidance.

Trust-Building Timeline

How relationships build

Patient, relationship-focused, group consensus required

What signals trust

- ✓ Showing up in person at least once before the deal closes.
- ✓ Remembering personal context (family, past meetings, holidays) without being asked.
- ✓ Speaking measured, accurate words. Local audiences detect overpromising.

What destroys trust

- × Disagreeing publicly with anyone senior in the room.
- × Switching contacts mid-deal without a warm introduction.
- × Promising executive sponsorship that does not show up.

Gift-giving and etiquette

Important ritual; presentation matters as much as the gift

Face-saving and what to avoid

Avoid direct confrontation; never cause someone to lose face
